The Caution

Mario and team, however, are nervous.

How many bots can they actually get?

Can people tell that they use bots?

Will it crush our organic growth?

Don't worry, says Jared Winn.

His proprietary network of 250 accounts can easily hack a Twitter space.

The "Lack of Evidence"

We've already gone through the data in this thread.

But the video at the beginning of the thread is important. In it, Mario claims that nobody can show him ANY evidence of his botting.

Something to keep in mind as we continue.

Support Upper Echelon

UE has made another banger video.

There's even more evidence.

Mario now has news articles being written about him.

If you want to see the entire group message, check out Upper Echelon's video and watch him break it down 🍌

The Beginning

Mario wants to bot his twitter account and his spaces.

He and his team get in contact with Winn Solutions.

This is where we got the raw data on Mario's bots before.

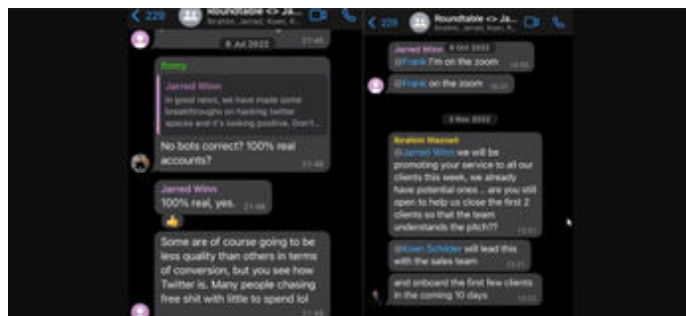

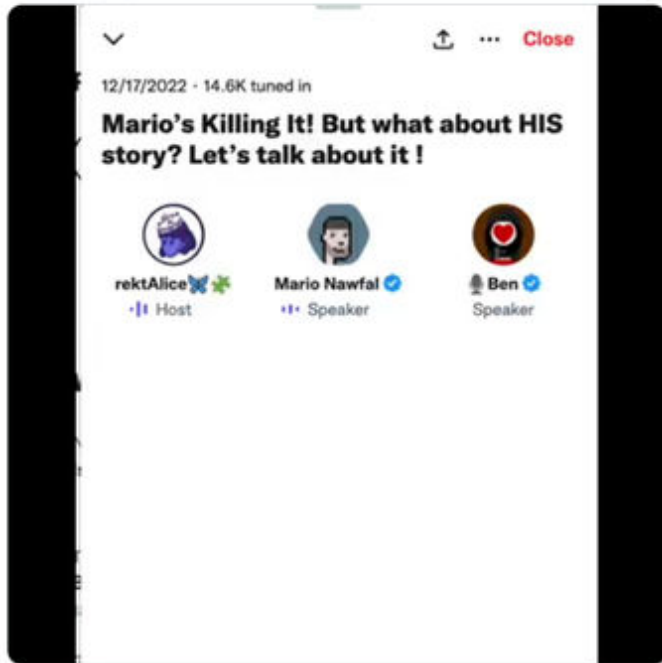

Here you can see Mario's team agreeing to this deal.

🤖 HOW TO BOT LIKE MARIO NAWFAL 🤖

Want to host the largest Twitter Space on the platform?

It's actually super easy and not complicated. You can pay for it. Just like Mario Nawfal. "Don't accuse someone of something without concrete evidence..."

Cool. I got you.

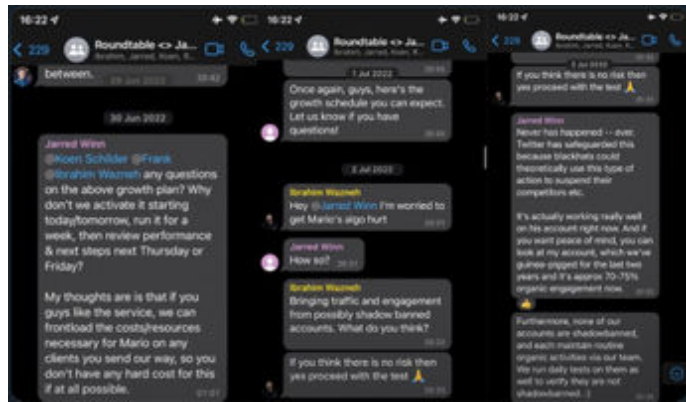

📁 The Bots and The Report

Mario's team is eager to begin their botting adventure.

Jared Winn is eager to please his new cash cow.

So they plan to create a weekly Bot report.

This is the deck we received containing all the raw data behind Mario's botting.

The Promotion

You'll notice that Jared asks to join a Mario space.

After confirming the quality of the bots, Mario goes one further. Ibrahim confirms that Mario's team will be promoting Winn Solutions botting to their clients.

Quickly onboarding them to their pitches.

The Goal

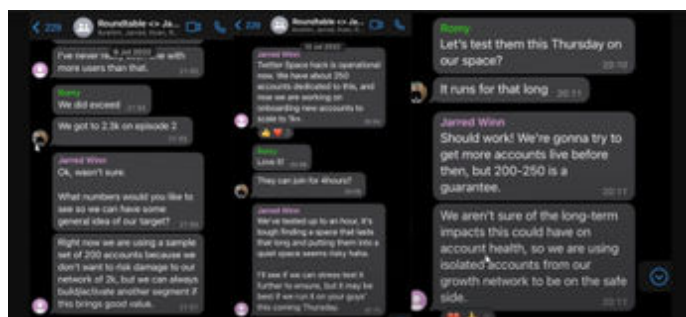

Mario's goals are two-fold.

He's mastered botting to boost his own platform.

Now he's mastering the offer to give to his clients, selling fake engagement.

All under the nose of bot hater @elonmusk

Who he also messages trying to shoot his shot.

🔥 Proof That Mario Nawfal Bots his Twitter

Elon Musk HATES botting on Twitter, but recently has been showing his love for "citizen journalist" Mario Nawfal.

These two things are in direct conflict.

Mario may have the biggest Twitter space, but he also has the most botted. 🤖

Ibrahim Wazneh gotcha 20:16

Jarred Winn Horny
If it works works, Do you think we would be able to scale it to 3k-4k accounts?

I think so, it's just a matter of getting that many accounts alive/running. Accounts aren't cheap, nor are proxies, etc... each account we create with long-term quality costs us about $7-8, then $1-2/month to maintain.

Up to 570, hitting some weird hiccup related to server capacity. We're avoiding using spam accounts or freshly generated accounts as we don't want to cause any suspensions.

Just close it if u want

Jarred Winn Soon we will be able to get them to send emojis, clap, follow speakers, retweet, etc.

Even vote

Borby How many do you have ready?

Ibrahim Wazneh Interesting 23:53
So they can stay 30 mins and then shuffle?

Jarred Winn Nope they stay the whole time now 23:53
They look good, huh? :)

Ibrahim Wazneh Not bad yes 23:53
I like 23:54

Jarred Winn We spend a lot of time making sure they all look unique/real/etc.

Ibrahim Wazneh Okk 23:54

Jarred Winn We can scale it up further, it's just gonna take time to build the accounts. Ends up we had a batch of 450 on standby that we were able to purpose towards this.

Bam tomorrow, yeah? Room for me as a speaker? :)

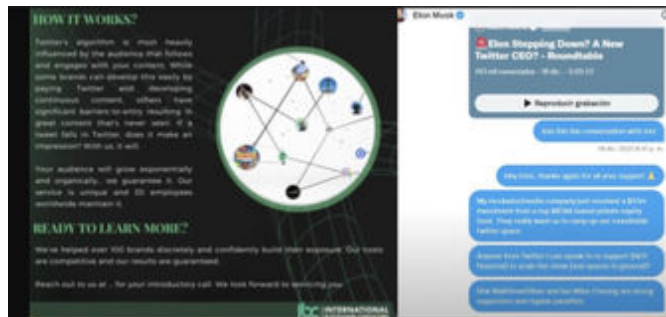

Winn Solutions delivered for Mario Nawfal.

The bots worked. Breaking past 570 total.

The bots can now attend full spaces.

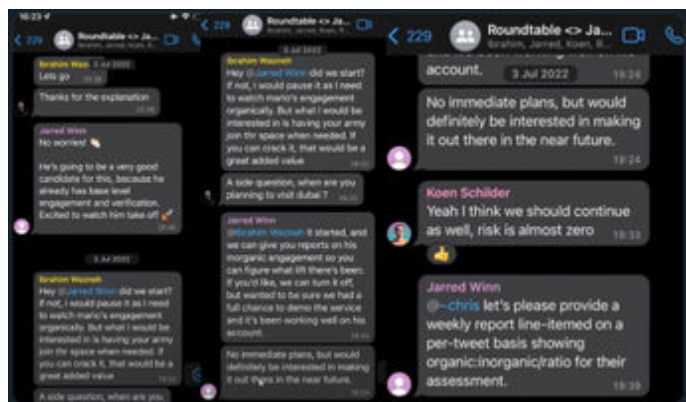

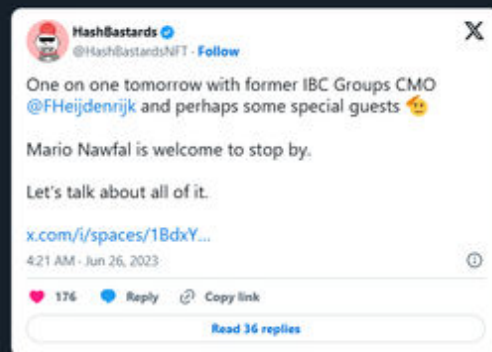

Clap, send emojis, follow speakers, retweet.

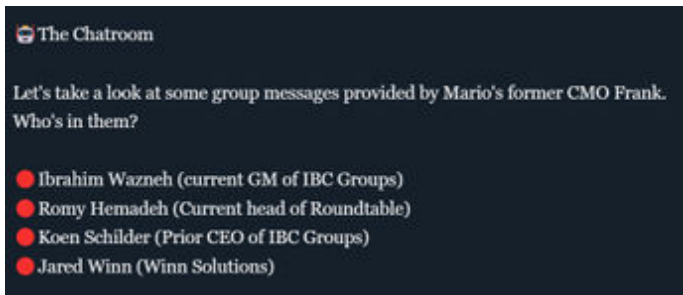

OH, and they can scale it up further!

Listen to @FHeijdenrijk talk about his direct experiences with Mario as his former CMO.

My dude broke it wide open with his thread Saturday.

Was any content removed from Google?

NO
